Read Apollo 13 and then answer questions 51 to 53.

Apollo 13

(1) On 11 April 1970, the Apollo 13 spacecraft began its mission to the moon. (2) Two days into the journey, there was an explosion that caused a loss of electrical power and failure of the oxygen tanks. (3) The mission was aborted and the focus became getting the three astronauts safely back to Earth alive. (4) There were many dangers for the men. (5) Some of these were the limited amount of oxygen and drinking water, the loss of heating and the build-up of carbon dioxide. (6) On 17 April, four days after the explosion, the trio splashed down in the Pacific Ocean unharmed.
